

Filter deployed in inferior vena cava.

The patient was a 56 year old lady with carcinoma of the gallbladder who had a previous history of recurrent pulmonary emboli. The filter was a temporary one left in over the peri-operative period while she underwent a radical cholecystectomy.

Inferior vena cavogram during placement of filter

Plain abdominal film after filter has been deployed

