

Subungual melanoma.

This 63 year newly diagnosed diabetic was referred to the podiatrist with a deformed hallux nail. The deformity is due to the subungual growth of a melanoma, first noted as a dark streak in the nail some 2 years previously.

