

Cervical spondylosis.

Sagittal MR scans, including T2 weighted image (top) showing prolapsed cervical discs (arrowed) at C4/5 and C5/6 and buckling of the ligamentum flavum with cord compression in a patient presenting with paraesthesiae in the hands and spasticity in the legs. Note the incidental fused bodies of the C3 and C4 vertebrae.

